

Jim Conti
Lighting Designer

Is Principal of Jim Conti LightDesign, and explores immaterial and time-based aspects of design by experimenting with environmental scents, fiber fractals and modular unit origami.

Makale Faber Cullen
Anthropologist

Is the founding director of Lore, an ethnographic research and creative consultancy.

Andrea Kahn
Architect

Is a the founder of designCONTENT and offers Marketing Support, Communication Strategy, Systems Analysis and Strategic Planning for a diverse design and engineering clientele.

Nic Kelman
Writer

Is a novelist and screenwriter with a background in cognitive science who lives by Marcus Tullius Cicero's words "a room without books is like a body without a soul."

Stephen Rustow
Architect & Planner

Is the founding Principal of Museoplan, a consulting practice for the design and presentation of cultural collections. He is Professor of Architecture at Cooper Union and a columnist for Urban Omnibus.

Lynn Saville
Photographer

Is a widely published fine arts photographer who captures cities and rural settings at twilight and dawn, or, as she describes it, "the boundary times between night and day."

Kenneth Silber
Writer

Writes on science, economics and history and has contributed to numerous publications including Scientific American Mind, the New York Post and the Daily Beast.

Paul Tarricone
Editor & Publisher

Is responsible for the IES publication LD+A. His initiatives to elevate the organization's mission have been recognized by several association publication awards.